

"It is a privilege to commend Sotirios Christou's book on The Psalms. It is a mine for digging deep into the meaning of the psalmists and a mountain top for transfiguration, pressing into God. I benefited from his reverential approach and the careful exegesis and insights of spirituality which helps us to worship better. I particularly welcomed the discussion of The Psalms and contemporary worship in ch. 3 and the helpful distinction of 'romantic intimacy' and 'biblical intimacy.' There are so many values in this work it is hard to stop enumerating them. Finally, what is the effect of psalm worship on politics? You must read right to the end where this is touched on. Very illuminating. Thank you Sotirios."

Roger Forster, Ichthus Fellowship - From The Foreword

"Sotirios' book is required reading by all who are truly serious about the worship of God. It challenges the superficial use of The Psalms as a form of spirituality for instant devotional reflection, even gratification, whilst missing the abundance of inspired theological, life transforming, destiny forming Truth. This is as distinctive and extensive research on The Psalms I have ever come across. The Psalms, so loved, seemingly so familiar, have once again come alive and the exposition has a revelation of Truth that stirs the soul, in a way that genuinely leads to deep devotion - a re-ordering of life's priorities and an understanding of Divine purpose that leads the humble worshipper to a profound trust and confidence in God."

*Chris Bowater, songwriter and worship leader
Director of Worship Academy International*

"Christou has written a winsome accessible study of the Psalms that will be a useful resource for community worship and for personal pondering. A welcome distinctive feature of his study is a focus on 'covenantal intimacy' that resonates with a profound hunger among us. I anticipate this book will be a welcome one for those who connect faith to worship and to life."

Walter Brueggeman - Columbia Theological Seminary

THE PSALMS

- Intimacy, Doxology & Theology

Sotirios Christou

THE PSALMS

Sotirios Christou

Sotirios Christou was baptised in the Greek Orthodox Church and ordained in the Church of England in 1988. He lives in Cambridge and has Permission to Officiate in Ely Diocese.

The painting on the front cover is Crucifixion 1 by the late John Reilly.

£15.00

ISBN 978-0-9935590-7-5

9 780993 559075 >